Two hundred thousand recruits for the Navy will be needed in the next year, mainly to man merchant ships, Secretary Daniels and Admiral Palmer told the House naval committee, in favoring passage of a bill for the purchase of 520 acres of land for enlargement of the Hampton Roads training station.

This increase will bring the Navy personnel to more than 700,000 men, a growth from 54,000 at the beginning of the war. The manning of merchant ships, it was said, was for transatlantic shipments and was done at the request of the shipping board, which has its own recruiting service for coastwise and South American shipping.

The additional land at Hampton roads is now under lease to the government, and the Navy plans to increase the facilities there for the training of 25,000 recruits at one time, instead of 12,500, as is now possible. With the increased facilities the transfer roads that station is sible. With the increased facilities at Hampton roads that station is planned by the Navy to take rank along with the Great Lakes and Newport. R. I., stations as among the largest for training sailors. The cost of the additional land at Hampton roads would be about $400,000.

The purchase of 300 acres of farm land adjoining the Annapolis Naval Academy also was urged by Secretary Daniels. It would cost about $75,000, and is needed, it was said, for increasing ranges and other facilities since some of the unoccupied land of the former site is now occupied by a radio station.

MAKES VIGOROUS ATTACK ON POLITICAL OPPONENT

WORCESTER, Mass., October 23 .-In accepting the democratic nomination for United States senator at the state convention here today former Gov. David I. Walsh vigorously attacked the record of his republican opponent, Senator John W. Weeks. He posed President Wilson's policies that he had retarded the war by stubborn opposition to preparedness legislation and that he attempted to defeat vital provisions of measures for the conduct of the war and for the welfare of the soldiers.

"I charge that Senator Weeks," said "I charge that Senator Weeks," said the speaker, "has been an active leader among a little group of reactionary senators which not only fought bitterly important preparedness legislation presented by the administration previous to the declaration of war, but even continued its hostile activities to the attempted defeat of vital provisions of the great measures which were to insure the successful conduct of the war.

"I charge that Senator Weeks was a leader of a coterie of reactionary senators which for two years with disgraceful filibustering tactics de-

A well defined and apparently authentic rumor was circulated in the financial district this morning to the AllisChalmers... 29 effect that R. E. Bolling would be Allis-Chimrs pr., 81 elected president of the Commercial National Bank at a meeting of the American Can... 46 4636 directors of that institution to be held tomorrow afternoon.

Frank P. Harman, the pre president, is said to be slated for the position of chairman of the board of directors. He is the largest individual shareholder in the bank, and the change, as suggested, is said to meet with his approval, as the presiden tial duties require too close personal attention.

R. E. Bolling is one of the well known financiers of New York, holding the position of vice president of the Chatham-Phoenix National Bank, one of the big institutions of the chief city. He was in this city last week in conference with the directors of the Commercial National Bank, and returned again yesterday. He has strong New York connections. Since the retirement of Tucker K. Sands, as cashier and vice president of the bank, the executive work of the institution has been divided by F. P. Harman, president, and James A. Cahill, vice president, and the advent of a new working official will be a welcome addition to the executive force.

In May the big wage increase, retroactive, was granted. Six months' back pay were charged to operating expenses in June and July, and Rock Island, Erie and Great Northern had to carry over charges to August.

August earnings show a very large increase in comparison with a year ago. Union Pacific, C. & O., Boston and Maine and New Haven almost doubled their net after taxes. and Maine and New Haven almost doubled their net after taxes.

On the basis of earnings the roads are not far from self-sustaining and the railroad administration has promised that the properties shall be maintained at best efficiency, seemingly indicating that the value of rails after the war will not be any less than now.
